REMARKS

25X1.

On the morning of 2 November 1971, aircraft observed at Hanoi airfield included 23 jet fighters in the dispersal area along the canal, 18 jet fighters in the southeastern corner of the field, 4 alert jet fighters on the southend of the short runway, 4 single-engine aircraft, and 4 biplanes in the dispersal area along the canal. The number of aircraft parked at the field was possibly larger because the view was obstructed [redacted] by bushes. (1)

3. The air force troops were still quartered in the barracks building in Rechlin.

Every day at 7 a.m. for about three weeks, the regular train stopped at the field and 40 to 50 Soviet Air Force soldiers left the train. The field was heavily guarded.

11. Between 2 and 2:30 p.m. on 15 October, 58 MiG-15s, 5 single-engine transport were parked at the field. On 16 October, 33 MiG-15s, 4 single-engine low-wing monoplanes with radial engines, 2 biplanes, and 1 twin-engine transport were observed at the installation. No other aircraft were parked at the field. There was no flying.

Other MiG-15s on the field were covered with tarpaulins. (2)

5. On 22 October, the occupation and activity in the Rechlin restricted area had increased considerably ~~when~~^{as} compared with observations made in September. All of the troops wore black-bordered blue epaulets. The radar set of Dumbo type was still located in its previous location. (3)

6. Between 2 and 5 p.m. on 25 October, there was intensive flying at the field. Eight swept-back jet fighters were in the air at the same time. Some dived over Rechlin airfield, fired two or three rounds and then climbed. Each plane made two or three passes. Night flying has not been recently observed.

8. [redacted] Flying was discontinued immediately when the sedan appeared and continued one hour later. About 3:30 p.m. a police patrol controlled all passers-by and asked where the sedan had gone. Three laborers stated that the sedan had proceeded along the northern edge of the field where it had stopped for a short time and then went toward the east. (5)

A MiG-15 without auxiliary fuel tank landed at the field at 4 p.m. and another MiG-15 with auxiliary fuel tank took off at 4:10 p.m. There was no other flying up to 5 p.m. No jet fighter crates or tank trucks were observed at the field.
